THIRD GRADE NEWS: Mrs. Yoon and Ms. Fenton

Happy Fall everyone! Our students are working hard and having fun learning. In English Language Arts, students are learning to edit and revise their personal narratives. Please ask them about the strategies: COPS and ARMS. Also, they continue to learn many important reading skills such as envisioning the text and identifying the story elements. Soon they will learn to effectively summarize what they read. In Math, we just finished the very first chapter and started learning about organizing data and reading and making graphs. It is important our students go on IXL regularly. In Science, students are having a great time learning all about amphibians. They enjoyed researching about the frog's habitat and designing one based on what they learned. As the cool temperatures have set in, please help your child to come to school dressed accordingly so they may feel comfortable during the outdoor recess. We wish everyone a safe and fun Halloween next week.

FOURTH GRADE NEWS: Mrs. Dinkjian & Ms. Mastellone

Your fourth grader has just begun reading a classic, Charlotte's Web. It is a fictional novel about a terrific pig and the friendships he develops. As we progress through this wonderful tale, we will discuss character traits, both admirable and less admirable. One of the themes addressed in this book is friendship and the importance of being selfless, kind, and considerate. Throughout the reading of Charlotte's Web, students will engage in cross-curriculum activities.

Happy Halloween
